DIRECTOR'S NOTES

Into the Woods was first produced in 1988. It won Tony awards for James Lapine for the Book and Stephen Sondheim for the Score.

Based on Fairy Tales by the Brothers Grimm, Into the Woods is an intricate weaving of the tales of Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk, Little Red Riding Hood and Rapunzel, with a brand new story about the Baker and his Wife. When you add an ugly Witch who always tells the truth and has the power to grant wishes, and a friendly Narrator to help the story along, it's an eclectic mix.

The story appears to be happily resolved at intermission. Each of the main characters seems to have achieved their goals, or have they? As Cinderella's dead mother says to her: "Are you certain what you wish is what you want?" Things and people are not always what they seem to be.

In the second act as the characters have to deal with the consequences of their single-minded pursuit of their wishes, they are forced to come together in a communal effort to overcome the peril in which they find themselves.

The show is filled with glorious music. Listen for the very first musical statement; these five single notes are the "magic bean" theme and they occur throughout the show in various songs or to underscore scenes. They are also memorably inverted in the very last song in the show. The "theme" means that something magic can happen and we hope that it does happen for you this evening!

Into the Woods is presented through special arrangement with, and all authorized performance materials supplied by, Music Theatre International.
